Little Dan Cupid Had a Merry, Merry Time in The Community This Week

PROMINENT YOUNG COUPLE QUIETLY WED

ALBERT B. FLORENCE AND MISS SARAH BAUGHMAN MARRY WEDNESDAY EVENING.

Quietly driving to the residence of Rev. H. M. Walker, pastor of the Christian church on Wednesday night Mr. Albert B. Florence and Miss Sara D. Baughman were married, and immediately left for Knoxville, to spend their honeymoon at the Appalachian Exposition.

The popular couple had kept well their secret of the time of the nuptials, though it had leaked out that they were soon to occur. The only attendants at the wedding were two, D. Florence, brother of the groom and Miss Elizabeth Baughman, sister of the bride. The bride wore a becoming tailor-made suit of blue, with traveling hat to match and was very attractive. She is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Baughman, and few more popular young ladies have ever married in Lincoln county. On bright and happy disposition, she has the rare capacity to make friends join in congratulations to the groom wherever she goes and everyone will upon winning of such an ideal helpmeet.

Mr. Florence is one of the most prominent young men in Stanford, being Mayor of the city, and Assistant Postmaster. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Florence, and is popular with everyone.

Upon their return home Sunday evening the bridal pair will go to housekeeping in a cottage on east Main street.

Brodhead.

Corn and tobacco cutting is about over, wheat sowing has begun in earnest and judging from the amount of fertilizers that has been hauled from this place a large acreage will be sown.

At the County Convention of the International Sunday School Union held at Laif's chapel last Sunday, Mr. Burdette Chestnut, of Matt, was elected president, Rev. W. G. Fink, of Mt. Vernon, Vice President, and W. H. Bowder of this place, secretary. Rev. A. J. Pike, assisted by J. C. McClary, of Stanford, conducted the funeral services of Mrs. Francisco last Monday.

W. J. Vaughn, of Louisville, Ky., State worker for the International Sunday School Union, lectured here Sunday night, subject: "Will I Be Missed When I Die."

Dr. George Frith left Tuesday for Louisville where he will complete his course in dentistry. We expect him to return to up a genuine full fledged tooth fixer.

The 5th Sunday meeting of the Executive Board of the Stockcastle Missionary Baptist Association will likely meet at Mt. Vernon on the 5th Sunday in this month.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. William Hott, a ten pound boy. Mrs. Mary Albright, Mrs. M. E. Wilcott, Miss Helen Sayers and Miss Clyde Wilcott, are in Knoxville this week. Fred Durham bookkeeper for W. J. Sparks Co., has moved his family to Mt. Vernon and taken rooms at the Mt. Vernon hotel. Frank Durham is working in the telegraph office for a few nights at Mt. Vernon. Mrs. Celia Turpin is with relatives at Hazel Patch this week. W. H. Tucker, who has been sick for a long time was able to resume work with the bridge carpenters on the railroad Monday. r. Ed Williams and wife of Junction City are with relatives here. Mrs. Billie Williams, of Junction City is visiting her daughter Mrs. Charles Lyons here this week. Mrs. E. W. Parker of Rocky Mount, Va., is here with her daughter Mrs. Dr. Gravelly this week. Misses Lona and Lela Albright Randa Tate and Buale Cahle were visiting friends in Mt. Vernon first of week.

TO THE PUBLIC

It is with pleasure that I recommend Jesse D. Wearan, The Insurance Man, Stanford, Ky., to the insurance public for the very prompt and liberal settlement of loss by fire to my store-room at Rowland, Ky., that occurred last Sunday morning Oct. 2, 1910. Signed, J. C. Napier.

FOR MORE THAN THREE DECADES.

Foley's Honey and Tar has been a household favorite for coughs, colds and ailments of the throat, chest and lungs. Contains no opiates. Shugars and Tanner.

Payne-Bronaugh

PROMINENT EAST END COUPLE WED IN LANCASTER

County Clerk George H. Cooper issued license to R. H. Bronaugh, Jr., and Miss Elizabeth Payne, both of Crab Orchard, to wed, and the popular young couple were made man and wife at Lancaster on Thursday. Their ages were given to the clerk at 22 and 19, respectively.

Mr. Bronaugh is a son and namesake of Col. R. H. Bronaugh, one of the most substantial citizens of the East End of the county. He is very popular in the younger circles and has the hearty congratulations of everyone upon winning such a bonnie bride for the former Miss Payne has been one of the belles of that section and is counted very beautiful and attractive.

Tobacco Brings $13.91

AT SALE OF POOLED CROP IN LEXINGTON MARKET

Lexington, Oct. 6.—The widely advertised auction sale of the tobacco in the Hurley Society's pool of 1909 began here Thursday afternoon and 746 hogheads were sold before the day was done at prices ranging from $9 to $16.25, the total sales averaging $13.91. The sale will be resumed tomorrow morning and continued until it is either stopped by the order of the society's officials or all of the pool is sold.

The average price realized was probably disappointing to the society, as it was more than 4 cents less than the average of 13 cents at which the tobacco in this pool was officially priced, when offered at private sale Aug. 16, while the highest price realized today was but 19 1/4 cents, not much higher than the average price which the society officials had estimated all of the pool should bring.

There were about 25 brokers and representatives of independent manufacturers in attendance at the sale and the bidding up to a limited price was brisk and spirited. An ominous fact, however, was that the American Tobacco Company, which handles most of the burley tobacco produced in this country, had, apparently no representative at the sale, sent no bid, and, so far as could be told by the indications, intends to completely ignore the sale.

The society claims to have 120,000 hogheads in its 1909 pool of which it announced it sold last August 1,500 hogheads to the Reynolds Company, of Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Therefore, it now has on hand to be disposed of at this sale 118,500 hogheads.

Mrs. Walter Vanarsdale, of Boyle, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Camnitz at Hustonville.

Rev. J. T. Hoskins, who is now located at Louisville, spent several days here this week.

William McKechnie, of Hubble, is in Monticello for a visit to relatives. Miss Berta Jean Penny, one of Stanford's charming young daughters, spent the day with Danville friends yesterday.—Advocate.

Misses J. K. and Jones Baughman have contracted for the building of a large tobacco warehouse in Moreland which is rented to a Louisville tobacco company, which will buy tobacco there this winter.

"Dog Fall"

IN TWO CANINE KILLING CASES BEFORE JUDGE BAILEY.

A "dog fall" was had in two dog cases tried before County Judge James P. Bailey this week. In the first case Tipton Sims of King's Mountain sued Arthur Murphy for $50 for killing his dog, and Judge Bailey handed down a judgment in favor of the defendant Murphy, it being shown that canine was running at large and proving very much of a nuisance at Murphy's home.

A jury was called for to hear the case of William Lamm, marshal of Hustonville against Mr. Brown, of the same city, who was charged with having slain one of the marshal's fine bloodhounds. The jury gave a verdict for $50 less $5 for chickens belonging to Brown which the dog was alleged to have killed. It was shown in this case that the dog was off Brown's property, having jumped over into the cemetery when he was shot.

Under the dog law now on the statute books, a canine is a valuable property, being taxable and one cannot be slain with impunity.

WORSE THAN BULLETS.

Bullets have often caused less suffering to soldiers than eczema, L. W. Harrington, Burlington, Me., got in the army, and suffered with forty years. "But Luckless's Arniea Salve cured me when all else failed," he writes. Great ointment for sores, ulcers, boils, burns, cuts, wounds, hemorrhoids and piles. 25 cents at Penny's Drug Store.

Many More Marriages

TWELVE YOUNG HEARTS MADE HAPPY RECENTLY

At the home of Rev. Garland Singleton on Wednesday evening, Marion Koger and Miss Sarah Rogers, both of this county were united in marriage. They have a great many friends who will wish them much happiness.

Clay West, a young Lincoln county farmer, and Miss Myrtle Hott of Pulaski, were married by Mr. Singleton at the courthouse after they had secured license from the county clerk. Their ages were given at 21 and 18. W. J. Sparks, aged 21, of Pulaski, and Miss Mary E. Wilcott, aged 15, were married at the home of Kate Wilcott on Sept. 25 and will make their home in Pulaski county.

A young Casey county couple, William Weatherford, aged 19, and Mary Lovett, aged 18, secured license here and were made man and wife at the home of the bride at Ellsburg. John T. Brackett aged 21 and Miss Esther Yocum, aged 18 were granted license and united in wedlock's holy bonds at the home of George Linthicum on Oct. 1. Many congratulations were extended this popular pair.

Clay Russell of Moreland and Miss Mollie McIlhee, were granted license here and Rev. Hurke performed the ceremony which made them man and wife on Saturday, Oct. 1, in the presence of friends and relatives. Both their ages were given as 20 years.

Last of Her Generation

MISS MARY PEPPLER PASSES AWAY—DIED IN ORDER OF THEIR BIRTH.

Miss Mary Pepples aged 81 years died at her home in the country last Friday, Sept. 30, and was laid to rest on Saturday, in the Goshen cemetery, after services by Rev. J. G. Livingston. Miss Pepples was the last survivor of a generation of a remarkable family. She was the eighth child and youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Pepples, and a very peculiar feature about the death of the children of this prominent and respected couple was that their death occurred in order of their births. Miss Mary being the youngest and the last to pass over the river. All of the family were very long lived. The father living to the ripe age of 93 while the mother lived to 63. None of the children died under 75 years.

The names of the children and the dates of their births and deaths follow: Sally J. Bell, born June 2, 1815; died Jan. 22, 1902. Bessie Ann Spoonamore, born 1816; died 1892. William Pepples, born 1817; died 1899. Mary Linda Pepples, born 1821; died 1897. John Pepples, born 1825; died 1899. James Pepples, born 1826; died 1907. David Pepples, born 1828; died 1909. And Mary Pepples, born 1830; died 1910.

Hiram Pepples the father of this family fought in the war of 1812, in Col. Shelby's regiment, and was captured and forced to run the gauntlet by the Indians and was severely wounded. His descendants are among the best known citizens in this part of the State and noted for their industry and hospitality.

Mrs. Mary J. Spears

DIES AT MORELAND AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Mrs. Mary J. Spears wife of Mr. J. J. Spears, of Moreland, and one of the best known women in the West End died at her home Tuesday afternoon. She had been ill for three years from a most excellent Christian lady and had been a member of the Christian church for many years. The burial was in the Hustonville cemetery, Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Deceased was in the 73d year of her age. She is survived by her husband, Mrs. J. J. Spears, and six children—Mrs. S. T. Carpenter, of Hustonville; Mr. T. W. Spears, Miss Fannie Spears, Mrs. T. D. Best and Mr. Joseph J. Spears, of Moreland, and Mrs. R. L. Cooper, of Nicholasville.

Terry-Raney

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE MARRY AT NEAL'S CREEK

Miss Dolly Terry and Mr. Robert M. Raney were married at the home of the bride's father, J. W. Terry at Neal's Creek three miles from the city Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock Rev. J. J. Dickey officiating. A goodly company of neighbors and friends witnessed the marriage. Immediately after the ceremony all repaired to the church nearby where the officiating minister conducted services. Mr. Raney is a deserving young man while the bride is one of most estimable and popular young ladies of ### Hustonville.

Mr. Charles Wheeler and wife and Miss Bessie Worthington and Rev. C. R. Blaine, of our city motored down to Louisville one day last week. After shopping there the afternoon and following morning they returned home by another route and all the trip made in Mr. Wheeler's new automobile without a minute stop for repairs or other trouble.

Services will be held at the Presbyterian church Saturday morning Oct. 8th, at ten o'clock. Communion Sabbath morning. Sabbath school ten o'clock. Cary R. Blain, pastor. All invited.

Work on the new school-house near Mat Reynolds's residence is progressing and the building will be ready for occupancy within a week or ten days.

Driving along highway a few days since when crisp temperature and absence of wraps suggested arctic regions and animals like polar bears that were never caught without their overcoats, we suddenly looped up for a moment and supposed we had come to the flag-staff that Dr. Cook planted at the north pole; to be disillusioned on nearer approach, observing a fence rail thrust in a hole in the middle of the road as a danger signal. Further along another little "center of center of road and a bridge" in by Hord's thrashing outfit and another new thin pipes and bell home, badly needing repair. These things suggest that the country road superintendent should get busy or negligence promises damages suits in the amount. As J. P. Riffe, of Erlanger, is visiting relatives here. Miss Annie Raney Dunn has returned home from a delightful three weeks visit with Mrs. Dan Traylor and other friends between Stanford and Crab Orchard.

At 8:30 P. M. there is a planet visible in the north east horizon at about 10 degrees higher that is more remarkable than Halley's comet. Its rapid movements seem to be up and down back and forward and from right to left and during these evolutions it throws volumes of assorted colors off its body.

The old superstition that lightning never strikes twice in the same place is shattered not only by the clay statue at Lexington, but by a particular locust tree in a row near James Huston's on Danville pike. About one month ago Mr. Huston saw a horse staggered by the shock and barely able to maintain his footing, though not seriously hurt. Limbs from same tree indicated another stroke the first succeeding storm.

Being disabled for life lately, I am anxious to sell my two hundred acre farm at a very low price to make a quick sale. Situated in a very desirable locality, close to churches, school and store, with a new nine room metal roof dwelling. Large metal roof to barn, tenant houses, stock barns etc., splendidly fenced. For price and terms to suit the most economical, address at once P. O. Box 182 Hustonville, Ky. 632

Corn cutting has begun in earnest with a good acreage and yield. The large tobacco crop is housed in fine shape and the prospects for a good price are quite flattering. Clayton Alcorn Gilbert, of Middleboro, Mo., is here visiting his kinfolks and in Stanford. He left this county 60 years ago and is surprised at the progress made during these several decades.

Moreland our railroad suburb has two telegraph operators, named Fincham and Grouse, in the employ of the Cincinnati Southern.

It is known to all men around this place that whiskey is being sold promiscuously, defiantly and boldly. Our trustees could suppress this lawless traffic in one day if they would. There will be indictments enough returned at our next circuit court, to keep the parties in jail for the next five years. The evidence is daily accumulating and will be presented at the proper time.

Roberts-Spoonamore

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE WED AT KNOXVILLE.

Mr. Sam M. Spoonamore, of this place and Miss Ollie Mae Roberts of Junction City, surprised their many friends by going to Knoxville Tuesday where they were happily united in wedlock's holy bonds that evening at 7:30 at the home of Rev. J. W. Waller pastor of the Deaderic Avenue Baptist church.

The bride a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Roberts is highly cultured, pretty and popular while she is richly endowed with that sweet and lovable disposition so loved by all.

The groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Spoonamore, is a bright capable and energetic young man, for honesty truthfulness and uprightness of character he has no peer and holds very worthy the honor of the woman's heart he has won.

After spending a few days at the Appalachian Exposition, they will return to Stanford where they will reside at the home of the groom's parents for the present.

MERRY CHASE FOR YOUNG ELOPERS

WALTER DUNN AND MISS CAROLINE LOGAN STEAL A MARCH ON FRIENDS

Walter Dunn, of Danville and Miss Caroline Logan, of Seattle, Wash., were married in Jellico, Tenn., Wednesday after a most romantic elopement. They were made man and wife by a Tennessee magistrate, while standing under a large sycamore tree. They had just crossed the State border after an exciting chase from London, where they were taken off a train by the chief of police in an effort to prevent the elopement.

Mr. Dunn is a nephew of Mrs. M. S. Baughman, of this city, and is well known here having come here very frequently lately to give demonstrations of the Overland auto for which he is agent in this section. The bride is an orphan and is said to be worth $10,000 in her own right. She is a niece of Col. Dave Logan, of Danville, and is related to Dr. Steele Bailey, formerly of this city.

A dispatch from London to the city papers Wednesday morning told of the elopement as follows:

London, Ky., Oct. 4.—On their way to Jellico, Tenn., to get married, Walter Dunn, the 20-year-old son of Col. I. M. Dunn, of Danville, Ky., one of the wealthiest and most prominent business men of Boyle county, and pretty Miss Caroline Logan, a young woman of wealthy Seattle, Wash., parents were taken from a Louisville and Nashville train here this afternoon by Chief of Police George W. Marcum, and detained for about three hours.

The pretty face and sparkling diamonds worn by the girl attracted a crowd of curious spectators at the Catching Hotel, where they had been taken by the officer. A telephone message from the chief of police at Danville, at the instance of Dave Logan, the uncle and guardian of the girl, caused their arrest.

Enough to bribe a judge or jury were the appeals of the sweet-faced girl for a way out of their predicament. The young man began negotiating with attorneys and the county judge with a view to instituting habeas corpus proceedings to obtain their release from custody, but such a course was unnecessary, for the heart of the good natured chief had already been reached by the maiden and the intercession of her score or more of new-made friends among the natives.

Free advice came from all sides and soon it was decided that they should be taken in a carriage through the country safely over the Tennessee border, at Jellico, 44 miles away.

Volunteers to pilot and guard them over the rough, dark mountain road were not hard to find, and Frank Mullin and Lavock Thompson were quietly selected. The party left London at five o'clock this evening expecting to travel all night. Dave Logan and Frank Logan, uncles and other relatives of the young woman are making frantic efforts to have her apprehended and held.

At Corbin and other points where the party must pass they will doubtless be sought by agents anxious to take in the rich reward offered by the uncles. The two guards however are known all over Eastern Kentucky for their daring and bravery, and they declare that the youthful pair shall not be molested until they are landed safely over the Tennessee border.

Miss Logan is very wealthy having more than $100,000 held in trust for her. She resides most of the time in Seattle, but has spent the summer with relatives at Danville, where she has been a great favorite in society circles. Charles Ceell, the well known young capitalist and partner with Col. Dunn in the automobile business drove the eloping couple in his touring car from Danville to Richmond, where they boarded a south-bound Louisville & Nashville train.

CAPT. BOGARDUS AGAIN HITS THE BULL'S EYE

This world famous rifle shot holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln Ill. Recently interviewed he says:—"I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several well-known kidney medicines, all of which gave no relief until I started taking Foley's Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley's Kidney Pills I had severe backache and pains in my kidneys with oppression and a cloudy voiding. On arising in the morning I would get dull headache. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley's Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidney or bladder and again feel like my own self." Shugars and Tanner.

For Circuit Judge

The Interior Journal is authorized to announce Charles A. Hardin as a candidate for Circuit Judge of the Thirteenth Judicial district, at the election to be held November, 1911, subject to the action of the Democracy.

The only gains made by republicans this fall, so far as we have noticed have been at a point where they won't do much good in helping the G. O. P. retain control of Congress. Dispatches say the "Republicans" have overturned the monarchy in Portugal, seized the government, and chased the young king from the palace and established a republic. Besides this being about the only instance of Republican success this year, it also prevents the unique spectacle of the republicans aligning themselves against established monopoly and waging war upon the classes.

The "regular" Democrats of Tennessee have nominated United States Senator Robert L. Taylor for governor against the independent-republican candidate, Capt. Hooper. Here's hoping the old fiddle and bow will prove their potency once more to hold Tennessee true to her first love.

ALL MY PIMPLES GONE

Girl Tells How a Blotchy Skin Was Cleansed by a Simple Ash

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Minnie Pickard, of Altamahaw, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that eczema and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in eczema and all other serious skin diseases that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash pimples, blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of Eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. A 25 cent bottle will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

W. B. Pierce

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine or known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

SOME REASONS WHY

If you study the "Lines" and the "Set" of the Diamond Edge Hatchet the reason for their universal favor becomes evident.

No matter what style, whether shingling, lathing, claw, ball or any of the score of styles, every one seems to be finished best.

The infinite care in the selecting and setting of the handle is remarked by all men who know.

The Island of Regeneration

"No," said the woman, "I respect you too much for that."

"Respect me?"

"Yes. You have shown me what you are by what you have done, all but this mad action of a moment's grace, and I see understand that my friend, for I too love, and it seems to me that I would brook anything, everything, for one moment like that you have shown me. But you are not children, neither are you savages to act like beasts of prey. I forgive you, I trust you." She came close to him and laid her hand upon his arm. "I respect you, I admire you!"

"Everything," said the man, "but love me."

"Everything but that," assented the woman quietly.

"I shan't offend again," returned the man. "Neither by force nor persuasion can I effect anything. Kate," he said after another pause, "come back to the United States or to some civilized land. The world is before you. I will land you where you please and give you or lend you money enough to enable you to get where you like. You shall be on the yacht to me as my sister."

"It can't be," said the woman. "Don't you see that I can accept no favors from you?"

"But no one need ever know; I will discharge the crew of the yacht in some South American port. They will scatter."

"God would know and I would know and when I see him again, I would have to tell him. It would make it harder for me. And I don't want to go back. I will wait here for him."

"Kate," said the man impulsively, "it was ungenerous of me not to have told you before. They took him away from the islands senseless, raving with brain fever. He collapsed stricken as if dead on the sand by that little heap of clothes and the Bible which bore your message. He thought you dead. He left the ship in the early morning to seek you. The shock was too much for him."

"He loved me, then," said the woman.

"Yes," said Langford, wringing the admission from his lips, "he loved you enough almost to die for you."

"But he is not dead. He was not when you left the cruiser?"

"No, they signaled me at noontime in answer to my inquiry that the doctor thought he would finally pull through, although it would be a long, terrible struggle; but if he dies, Kate, if I got back and found that he is dead and come here—"

"Don't come back," said the woman. "Don't tell anyone that I am here. Let no one ever come back unless the promptings of his heart and the leading of God should bring him to me."

"Is this your final, absolute decision?"

"O Kate!"

"Don't," said the woman. "It is needless and only breaks your heart and wrings mine. Now, you must go. No one has seen you from the yacht. This cave is sheltered from where she lies. No one need know that you have found me. Indeed I want you to give me your word of honor to swear it by all that you hold sacred that you will never tell anyone, much less him, that you came back and found me alive."

"You set me a hard task," faltered the man.

"But I am sure," continued the woman, "it is not too hard for you to accomplish. Come, you have said you wanted to make amends. That is all past now, forgotten and forgiven, but if you really would make me happy, you will promise what I say."

"And what is that again?"

"On your word of honor as a gentleman, by all that you hold sacred, you will never mention to a human soul that you found me here alive."

"On my word, by all that I do hold sacred, by my love for you, Kate, I will not speak unless in some way you give me leave."

"So help you God!" said the woman solemnly.

"So help me God!" replied the man with equal gravity.

"And now you must go."

"I have one request to make of you, Kate, before I go," said Langford.

"If I can grant it, you may be assured I will."

"It is very easy. Will you stay in this cave for two hours?"

"I have no watch," said the woman, "but I will guess the time as best I can."

"Then," said the man, "go down to the beach. The yacht will be gone."

"Valentia," said the woman, "you don't mean to stay here on the island?"

"I would stay gladly," returned the other. "If I thought that I were welcome, but I know that cannot be."

"I will wait," said the woman.

"Good-bye."

She extended her hand to him. He seized it in his own trembling grasp and kissed it. He remained a moment with his lips pressed to her hand and she laid her other hand upon his forehead. He heard her lips murmuring words of prayer. He released her hand, stooped lower, laid something at her feet, turned and resolutely marched out into the sunlight.

The woman lifted her hand, the hand he had kissed. It was wet with tears. The man had left her with a breaking heart. She sat down upon the sand to think her thoughts during her two hours wait. Her bare foot touched something metallic. She bent over and picked it up. It was his watch. He had placed it there. The simple kindness, the spontaneous generosity of the little action moved her as had not all his pleas, and she mis-

She looked at the watch after a while and found that more than two hours had elapsed; nearly three. The latter part of the time had fled swiftly in thoughts of him. She was hungry and thirsty, too. It was noon. She went out on the sands. The yacht was nowhere to be seen. She could not have gotten below the horizon. She divined that he had sailed around the island and away in that direction.

There was a pile of boxes and things on the sand above the high water mark. She stepped toward it and opened one of the sea chests. It was filled with books and papers, a strange collection. He had ransacked the yacht for her. Another chest contained provisions with which she had long been unfamiliar. There were toilet articles, pieces of cloth, writing paper, pencils, a heaping profusion of all that he fancied she might need, that might afford solace and companionship to her and alleviate the loneliness of those hours. In her heart she thanked him, and lifting up her hands, she blessed him again. He had made life possible and tolerable to her. She could write, she could read, she could sew. And all this while she could hope and dream.

CHAPTER XXIII.

A Great Purpose.

Late springtime in old Virginia. The climate was not unlike that of the island during the cooler portions of the year, thought the man, standing on the porch of the high-pillared old brick house set upon a hill overlooking the pale green waters of Hampton Roads, which stretched far eastward past Newport News and Old Point Comfort to the blue of the Chesapeake and far beyond that to the deeper blue of the ocean. Back of him a thousand leagues of land and more than a thousand leagues of sea intervened between him and the object of his thoughts. Not for a day, not for an hour, scarcely for a moment even was that island out of his mind. There was pleasure and pain in the recollection of it.

Upon the man's face a stern melancholy had settled. Not the melancholy of ineptitude and indifference, not the melancholy that made him do nothing, unmindful of the large issues of life in which he had been suddenly plunged, not the melancholy that paralyzed his activities, but the melancholy that comes from the presence in the heart of an unlooked sorrow that neither time nor chance nor occupation could uproot; a melancholy that came from the sense of bereavement ever growing more keen and more poignant as the period of bereavement lengthened and which sprang from a consciousness of imperfections and failures for which no after achievement could atone.

It had not been difficult to establish his rights. Whitaker and the chaplain, armed with the depositions, had taken the man across the continent when the ship had been put out of commission at San Francisco, and presented him to his uncle, the Charnock in residence in that great house on the Nansemond shore overlooking that estuary of the James by Hampton Roads. The old man, childless and alone, had welcomed him gladly. The answer was of the Charnock blood. It was a strange moment for the islander when they took him into the great drawing-room and showed him the pictures of his father and of his mother. He was the living image of the man, tempered with some of the mother's sweetness. This remarkable likeness—indeed he was not unlike his uncle as well—coupled with the material proofs, the map, the Bible, the evidence of the ship, together with what was known, removed every lingering doubt from the minds of those most concerned.

The family was reduced to those two, the uncle and the nephew. The old man formally and legally recognized the relationship and offered to transfer the property rightfully his, which since the discovery of cost had increased enormously in value, to the newcomer, but Charnock would have none of it then. He recognized his inability to deal with such things. If the older man would retain it, he could give it to him at his death. Meanwhile, he could teach and train him how to use it. Hereafter his one guide, his one inspiration in life, he would need wise counsel and careful leading indeed.

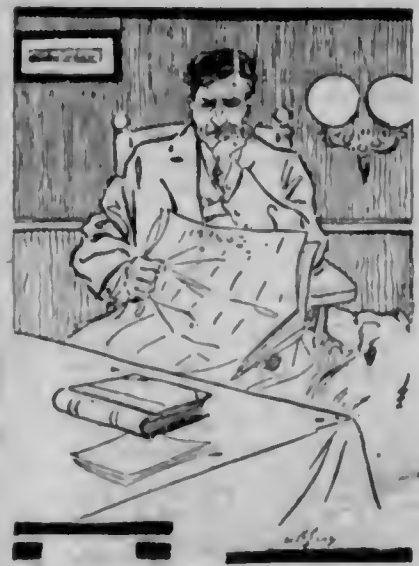

In addition to the formal recognition, the elder man legally adopted the younger and constituted him the heir to his own property which was almost as extensive and as valuable as that which rightly belonged to the nephew. And then these formalities being completed, the lieutenant-commander and the chaplain summoned elsewhere by their duties, bade the two farewell and left them.

Charnock could not have failed into better hands. Education was his first requirement and he applied himself to it with a fierce energy and a grim determination which presently, from the splendid foundation which had been laid enabled him to progress sufficiently to take his place and hold his own with men and women. It was impossible to keep secret forever the details of such a story as his, especially when it was linked with a name so famous and still remembered as that of Katharine Brenton, and it had been decided by Capt. Ashby and Whitaker and the man himself that such portions of it as would suffice to explain his own presence and her fate should be given to the world. Upon the foundation thus afforded romance bulled. Charnock immediately became a marked man. He would have been a marked man in any event from the financial power that he possessed.

His uncle's management had been wise and prudent, he had spent little and had saved much, so that Charnock found himself the possessor of vast riches in the form of available capital. Among the first things he learned was the power of money. Had he not been startled by the memory of the woman, he would probably have learned it to his sorrow. As it was, he was almost miserly. He spent little upon himself. His wants were astonishingly few and contact with the world did not develop extravagant ideas. Those were things which he was too old to learn, against which he had been anchored. He was saving what he had and what he could get for some great purpose, a purpose of help, of assistance in which he could commemorate her name, for which future generations should rise up and call her blessed.

He had long talks with his uncle about it. The old man would have had his nephew marry and carry on the ancient line. Delicately, tenderly, he broached the subject after a time, but the suggestion met with absolute refusal. Women interested Charnock as men did. Indeed his interest in his kind was intense. The intellectual stimulus of conversations with bright, intelligent people was the most entrancing result of his contact with the world. But none of them touched his heart. That was buried on that gemlike island in the far off sea.

He was a man of unusual force of character, prompt and unyielding decision. His uncle had not lived his long life without being able to estimate men. He recognized very early

The Struggle Racked and Tore Him In His Heart.

In the undertaking the futility of argument, and though he tried finesse in the presence of the witliest, the cleverest, and most beautiful women of Virginia and elsewhere, for the two traveled throughout the United States, welcomed everywhere, his efforts were unavailing. There was more than one woman who would have been glad to accept the man's suit, whom, if he had wooed ever so slightly he could have won, but he was friendly with everyone and in love with none.

At the end of two years society gave him up as confirmed in his isolation and loneliness. He was not the less welcome, but he was no longer a matrimonial possibility, nor was he any more the wonder that he had been. New things engrossed public attention. The world presently took Charnock as he would fain have it take him, as a matter of course.

He did things slowly, not because that was his nature, but from an invincible determination to do things right. He made his plans deliberately and had formulated an enterprise so comprehensive in its scope, so vast in its outlay and with such infinite possibilities of help to the poor, the wretched, the down-trodden classes of society, that when the foreshadowings of it were announced, people stood amazed. An undertaking so great was not within the power even of Charnock. His resources were utterly unequal to it, but he had enough to make a magnificent beginning and by devoting to it the whole revenue of his estate, and the estate itself after he died, gradually the enterprise would be achieved.

There was no necessity for secrecy about it. Indeed with that simplicity and candor so unusual and so unconventional, which touch with the world had never been able to alter, he had spoken of his plans without reserve and he had declared with equal frankness that what he was doing was in memory of the noblest and the truest of women, to whom he owed it that he was a human being and not an animal.

Whitaker, of whose judgment he thought highly and, with desert, was called from the naval service to be the executive head of the great undertaking. The spiritual work was to be placed in the hands of the chaplain who had so appeared himself to the promoter and deliver of it all. Charnock realized that these men who had known Katharine Brenton would enter more sympathetically into his views and could be depended upon to carry them out in case anything happened to him. He and his uncle and two others of excellent judgment whom he had met, were associated with the two mentioned to carry out all the founder's plans.

Now, this thing was not done in a corner. The news of it was carried over the United States and spread even to foreign lands. The world read it and marveled again. A newspaper carrying an account of it fell under the eye of a lonely man in San Francisco, who had just returned from a long voyage in northern seas. The name "Charnock" caught his eye first; and then Langford saw the name of the woman he loved. He read with avidity, appreciating as none could

Free Remedy For Weak Bowels

There are two forms of bodily cleanliness, the external and the internal. The one is for your pride in yourself; the other for your life and health. Both are important, but of vastly more importance in the long run is the internal cleanliness.

This is one point that all should watch about their bodies—the cleanliness of the bowels. Keep them clean and free from obstructions. To do this you must have one or two movements of the bowels each twenty-four hours. If your system does not do this naturally, in the process of eating and drinking, then you must obtain aid of some kind. After finding out that cathartics, salts and such things relieve you for a good health at a very worse than ever the next day, then try a simpler and more natural remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

For the skeptical the best way to begin is to send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle. Use it as directed and if it convinces you that a brief continuance of its use will relieve you permanently—that it will train the stomach and bowel muscles to again work naturally at certain hours—then buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing. They began with a sample bottle, then bought a fifty-cent bottle, and now fully convinced of its merits, they buy the one dollar family size. All the members of the family can use it down to the very youngest.

A brief use of this grand laxative tonic will cure constipation in its worst form. Indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, our stomach and such ailments and keep you in continuous good health at a very small cost. Such is the experience of many families like that of Mrs. Oscar Eyster, Unionville, Ind., J. F. Daniel, Saron, Tex., and hundreds of others that would be named.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address: Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 1150 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Get the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package. It is safe and effective. Contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes. Sugars and Tannin.

"WE PROVE IT."

Why waste time and money experimenting with greasy salves and lotions, trying to drive the eczema germ from underneath the skin when the druggist at the drug store guarantees ZEMO, a clean liquid preparation for external use to rid the skin of the germ life that causes the trouble? One application will relieve the itching and oftentimes one bottle is sufficient to cure a minor case of eczema.

In over 2,000 towns and cities in America, the leading druggist has the agency for ZEMO and he will tell you of the marvelous cures made by this clean, simple treatment. ZEMO is recognized as the cleanest and most popular treatment for eczema, pimples, dandruff and all other forms of skin or scalp affections whether an infant or grown person. Will you try a bottle on our recommendation? Penny's drug store.

GO RIGHT AT IT.

Friends and Neighbors in Stanford Will Show You How.

But it won't cure. You must reach the root of it—the kidneys.

Capt Thomas Richards, W. Main St. Stanford, Ky., says: "Many years ago my kidneys began to trouble me. My back grew so lame that I could not stoop and I slept poorly at night. Sometimes an almost complete retention of the kidney secretions existed, then again I had a frequent desire to pass them. When the secretions were voided, a burning pain was in evidence. I finally had the good fortune to learn of Doan's Kidney Pills and commenced their use. This remedy gave me great relief and in view of experience, I consider it the best preparation of its kind I have ever taken. I have commended Doan's Kidney Pills to scores of people and everyone has reported that good results have followed their use."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn, Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
